Action Taken of the Alumni Feedback of Academic Year 2024-25

S. No.	Feedback analysis	Action taken
1	Students at JECRC are securing excellent placements; however, there is a growing aspiration for opportunities with higher packages.	To address this feedback, the Alumni Department has launched the Alumni-Led Placement (ALP) initiative. Through ALP, we actively approach senior alumni in the industry to bring placement opportunities to the campus, thereby strengthening recruitment prospects for our students.
2	JECRC should invite alumni working in MAANG companies to interact with students.	Acting on this suggestion, the Alumni Department invited Mr. Devesh Sharma (Batch 2015, ECE) , currently at Google, to deliver a session on " From Classrooms to Cloud: Leading Digital Transformation at Google " and share insights from his journey. Mr. Manoj Tharwani (Batch 2005, CSE) , Senior Engineering Leader at Amazon, conducted a session on " Things I Wish I Knew in College ", offering students practical guidance and career lessons. Mr. Pranshu Arya (Batch 2009, CSE) , Software Engineer at Apple, engaged students in a session on " How to Get into the Tech Giants Overseas ", providing first-hand insights into international opportunities.
3	Invite alumni with notable public speaking and motivational speaking experience to inspire students.	Following this feedback, the Alumni Department invited Mr. Anant Katyayni (Batch 2010, CSE) , Founder, Trainer & Coach at Kathakari Training Services, and a TEDx Speaker, to engage with students through an inspiring session. He shared his journey of becoming a professional speaker, highlighting the importance of communication, confidence, and purpose-driven living, leaving the students motivated and empowered. Additionally, Ms. Tanya Garg (Batch 2015, ECE) , Senior Manager at Schneider Electric, Hyderabad, was invited to share her experiences of leading in a global organization. Through her talk, she motivated students by reflecting on her personal journey, resilience, and leadership lessons, encouraging them to pursue excellence with determination.

4	Invite alumni who transitioned from engineering to prominent roles in the global business market, to provide diverse career perspectives.	Acting on this feedback, the Alumni Department invited Mr. Ankush Gupta (Batch 2006, CSE) — Senior Business Analyst at RBC BlueBay Asset Management and Gaurav Khandelwal (2018;EE)- Business Analyst at Indus Valley Partners — to deliver a session on “ Crossing the Bridge from JECRC Classrooms to Global Careers in Business. ”
5	Include sessions by alumni engaged in impactful social causes to inspire students beyond academics and careers.	In response, the Alumni Department invited Mr. Manoj Kumar Singh , a Hemophilia warrior, to speak on the topic “ Finding Purpose: Leading a Life with Hemophilia, ” sharing his journey of resilience and purpose-driven living.
6	Organize knowledge-Sharing sessions where experienced alumni reflect on lessons learned in their careers and offer guidance to current students.	The Alumni Department invited Mr. Manoj Tharwani (CSE, Batch 2005), Senior Engineering Leader at Amazon, to deliver a session on “ Things I Wish I Knew in College ”, providing students with invaluable career insights and personal learnings.
7	Invite alumni recruiters/HR professionals to give insights into industry expectations.	The Alumni Department conducted a series of insightful sessions featuring HR professionals from diverse industries. Ms. Akanksha Pandey (Batch 2017, CSE) – Senior HR Executive at Norwin Technologies, shared practical tips on resume building and interview readiness. Ms. Meenakshi Shivdasani (Batch 2019, IT) – HR Manager at Infonic Solutions, offered guidance on aligning student skills with hiring expectations. Mr. Amit Jha (Batch 2017, ME) – HR Executive at Reliance Industries, provided an overview of corporate recruitment trends, while Mr. Harshit Khandelwal (Batch 2020, ECE) – HR Executive at SHIV CONSULTANCY, discussed the evolving needs of the job market. Each session helped students gain clarity on industry demands and better prepare for successful career transitions.
